

Lady Parts

For the 2017-2018 season, Pi introduced our new series, Pi Provocateurs: Political Performance in Unconventional Spaces! As part of this new series, we presented After Party Theatre's Lady Parts!

Co-creators Katey Hoffman and Cheyenne Maberley describe Lady Parts as "Broad City meets SNL when it was still good meets those uncomfortable sex-ed videos they make you watch in grade 6." Through satirical sketch and true life stories, Lady Parts exposes and criticizes the very real and very problematic treatment of 50% of our population, from large scale misogyny to the day to day minutia of our existence.

Through four episodes spread out over the last year, Katey and Cheyenne explored what it's like to be a woman today. These were sold-out evenings of intimacy and vulnerability contrasted with sharp, cutting and unapologetic comedy. #IGotLaydAtLadyParts
